CITY HALL AFFAIRS.

Not Much of Interest Promised for Council To-night.

STREET RAILWAY ORDINANCES

Will Not Consume Much Time, One Not Being Ready, and the Other will Probably go to the Committee. The Matter of Circus Licenses. The City Tribunal—Another Long Meeting of the Real Estate Committee.

Somewhat uninteresting, mainly unproductive and almost entirely unsatisfactory, accurately describes last night's meeting of the city council committee on real estate. This depressing condition of affairs had a like effect on the members of the committee who attended the meeting.

Previous to assembling in the committee room, a tour of inspection was made of the city's end of the public building for the purpose of ascertaining what repairs are necessary, and reporting to council. It is not surprising that the committee found that the building can without inconvenience stand considerable repairing.

The basement was first looked at, and here a good sized item of prospective expense was found, in the shape of the heating apparatus, several flues in the boiler of which are burned out and will necessarily have to be fixed soon. The walls of the basement also need scraping and a coat or two of whitewash. The WALLS OF THE LOCKUP are in a similar expense breeding condition. The janitor's office will have to have a coat of whitewash and the floor of the police court room needs repairing. The ceiling in the collector's room needs looking after right away, and the walls of several offices should be cleaned. The wall at the stairs leading to the second branch gallery has bulged out and in the opinion of the committee should be attended to. An inspection of the second branch chamber was made and several bad places on the walls are to be fixed, and several of the window sashes in both chambers need to receive attention from specialists in carpentry. The window panes also looked as though they would be benefitted by a dose of soap and water.

After the tour of inspection the committee came together, Chairman Horstman in the chair, Messrs. Dinger, Britt, Hupp and Farrell on hand. The first thing done was the opening of the one lone bid received for the CITY'S STONE FLAGGING, from William Staub, who offered $150 for the lot. As the county got twelve cents a foot for its stone, and as the city's stone is of a better grade, and as there is some 4,500 feet of it, the committee did not look with favor on the bid, and did not accept it. It was decided to pile the stone away in the rear of the public building, and to continue the advertisements in the city press, asking for bids on it. Members of the committee said that several people want some of the stone, and the sentiment was that the city should get ten or twelve cents per foot for it.

A bid for repairs on the fountain was received from Trimble & Lutz, who will do the necessary work for $25.50. As only one bid had been received, the committee decided to place the matter in the hands of the chairman and clerk, who are to solicit more bids and report to the committee.

The bill of B. F. Caldwell, for $13.50, for tiling done in the main corridor, was up for consideration. There was some dissatisfaction expressed because the tiling does not correspond with that before used. It was finally decided to recommend the bill, less 10 per cent., for payment. The Ad. Kayes lease was recommended to be placed at $18 per year.

SCHOOL BOARD ENCROACHING.

The matter of the school board encroaching on city property next came up for action. The city solicitor said the city has no right to give away property and that the only recourse is to lease. He said it had been stated that the whole of Lincoln school is on property owned by the city, some of it encroaching onto Tenth street, for which so far as he knew there was no record. He consulted with the board of public works and could there find no record of how the school board came to occupy the ground. In order to properly look up the matter, the solicitor suggested that a sub-committee be appointed to look into the matter and see what grounds the board had for occupying city property. Finally a motion was made and carried that the solicitor notify council that the board of education is encroaching on city property on Tenth street.

SUNDAY BALL PLAYING.

Mr. Hupp brought up the matter of Sunday ball playing on the city commons, and said that he had heard considerable complaint about it. He then introduced the following resolution, to be introduced in council with a recommendation for passage:

Resolved, That council instruct the police department to break up the playing of base ball in the city limits on Sundays.

After considerable discussion, it was seen that a majority of the committee was not in favor of the proposed action, and the resolution was withdrawn.

The bill of Engineers Hoge and White, $160.75 for superintending the laying of the walks and grass around the city building, which was laid over at the last meeting, came up and it was recommended for payment.

SHORTNESS OF FUNDS.

It was then suggested that the matter of repairs on the public building be taken up, but Clerk Hanke knocked out all calculations by figuring out that the real estate committee's appropriation, with the exception of salaries for the year, is almost exhausted. He said the committee had just $23.44 to go on for repairs or anything else. As the one item of repairs on the boiler will likely amount to $200, the committee was utterly unable to do anything about the repairs. It was suggested that council be asked to appropriate money for the repairs out of the contingent fund. It was decided that the janitor, together with the chairman of the committee, secure bids for the necessary repairs and report to council. Bills amounting to $188.90 were recommended for payment.

Street Railway Matters.

There is not a great deal of business demanding the attention of the city council at this evening's regular meeting. The ordinance granting the Elm Grove railroad the right of way for a loop track on Chapline, Koff, Fifteenth and McCulloch streets will be introduced, but will doubtless be referred to a committee without discussion. The ordinance to grant the Wheeling company the right of way up Market street from Tenth to Fifth and down Fifth to Main has not yet been prepared. It was expected that it would be ready for consideration at this evening's meeting.

To Reduce Circus Licenses.

Among other matters to come up in the council meeting this evening will be an ordinance to reduce the license fee of circuses. Men who take a business view of this question have long considered the charge exorbitant. Good shows have frequently given Wheeling the go-by, showing in Bellaire or elsewhere near. Mat McNabb has worked to secure the reduction, and thinks it will go through. It is estimated that it costs a circus $400 more to show in Wheeling than in any of the Ohio towns just across the river, and a circus at Bellaire takes some money from Wheeling and leaves none in return, while a show here spends money freely, and those who come into town to see it also leave some cash.

Work of the Police.

Sherman Terrill, disorderly, got fifteen days on the hill yesterday in the police court in default of $5 and costs. Thomas Henderson, drunk, got ten days in default of $1 and costs, and George Hess, also drunk, got the same alternative for the same penalty.

Mrs. J. Klieves, selling on Sunday, paid $20 and costs. She said she had given orders not to keep open, but the barkeeper disobeyed her.

Charley Mason was run in by Officer Daum yesterday as a plain drunk. Officer Carney last night brought in Mrs. Kehoe, an old demented woman from Benwood, who was wandering about the streets and calling loudly for "Charley."

There was a call for the patrol wagon from the Eighth ward last night, and Driver Fulton having been taken suddenly ill, Officer Creighton took the reins and put the rig through safely. Officer Minkemeyer had Mrs. Heinrich and her daughter in charge for disorderly conduct on the street. Lieutenant Gans brought them up.

Selling a Photograph Gallery.

Yesterday the fixtures and furniture of the old Parsons gallery were auctioned off in front of the old court house by J. C. Hervey, to satisfy claims for taxes and judgments secured by Mr. McClain in recent suits.

Much indignation was expressed on all sides over the manner in which photographs of people in private life were disposed of. Many amusing incidents occurred during the sale. A number of young men gallantly bought up a number of the pictures to return to the originals to prevent their going astray. The prices were ridiculous, pictures worth $10 and $20 selling for as many cents. It is predicted that trouble will occur over some of the sales. Most of the gallery paraphernalia was bought by local photographers. The sale will continue to-day.

A Decorator from Japan.

The North Wheeling pottery proposes to turn out as fine ware as the conditions will allow, and when the conditions do not suit the company changes them. Yesterday Mr. Senno arrived in Wheeling to accept a position as decorator at this pottery. Mr. Senno is a native of Japan, and learned his art there, but he has been in America for some years, and for quite a while worked as a decorator at Trenton, N. J. He is said to be an artist in his line, ranking with the best of them.
